Harwell Campus Information Pack

LIFE AT HARWELL

Welcome to Harwell Campus, the UK's leading science, innovation and technology campus that's host to an array of over £2bn of world leading research infrastructure and many exciting and innovative organisations. Harwell is an integral part of Oxfordshire's high value economic infrastructure and the Science Vale, the UK's knowledge spine.

This pack is designed to give you an overview of the amenities and services available to you at Harwell Campus website but is not exhaustive as new initiatives and services are springing up all the time. We recommend that you regularly check the Harwell Campus website for news and events and that you sign up to receive ongoing information about events and activities on campus (please email connect@harwellcampus.com for this).

You and over 6000 others are part of this vibrant, fast-growing community, working inside some 200+ organisations here including the UK Research Councils, start-ups, international organisations and commercial partnerships. A truly inter-disciplinary environment, Harwell is also home to a number of growing clusters of innovative organisations across the Space, Life Sciences/HealthTec and EnergyTec sectors, alongside other key fields such as Big Data, Advanced Materials and Cryogenics among other sectors.

The 710-acre site boasts more than 70 years of world-changing innovation, from the foundation of the Atomic Energy Research Establishment in 1946 to the opening of the Diamond Synchrotron in 2007. Campus development continues today with the arrival of new buildings and organisations plus a residential quarter located at the north of the site that commences consultation in early 2018.

Networking, events and communal areas facilitate valuable interaction within the campus community as well as with external customers and suppliers.

Achieving a good work/life balance at Harwell is helped by its rural location, just twenty minutes from Oxford and 15 minutes from Didcot. London and Heathrow are less than an hour away, making the campus ideally located for local, national and international science and enterprise.

If you would like to sign up to personal communications about Harwell Campus events and activities you can simply opt into the mailing list. Please complete the online Google Form here.
